Panelists: Holland Cotter, Laurie Heineman, Bob Telson, and Mac Dewart.
Those wishing to continue the conversation can return to the room after the following break.

10:45 AM Break

11:00 AM Discussion Groups: These small breakout sessions, to be facilitated by reunion committee members, will provide an opportunity for us to reflect upon some of the questions and themes that keep popping up in our lives now:

- What brings us pleasure, meaning, and joy? Is it volunteering for a cause? Being with grandkids? Collaborating in intergenerational settings?
- How did our college and pre-college years shape who we are now?
- Has the pandemic left its mark in our lives in lasting ways?
- Going forward, how do we see ourselves plugging into these deeply unsettled times? How do we find positive ways to address problems that we care about?
- What do we see as our legacy, if any?

All groups will discuss the same topics. Groups spread out across the Science Center in the following rooms:

1. Judy Norsigian (room 113)
2. Ellen Messer (room 116)
3. Richard Paisner (room 216)
4. Janice Abarbanel (room 221)
5. Rick Kopelman (room 222)
6. Ira Jackson (room 304)
7. Sandra McCandless (room 309)
8. Bob Fishman (room 310)
9. Julia Livingston (room 411)
10. Jane Manopoli (room B10)

If a room is full, please join another group so that we can keep discussions smaller and allow for more participation.*

Juneteenth Information

June 19th is the last day of our reunion. This Juneteenth is the first time the holiday is commemorated by the entire nation as a Federal Holiday. This holiday commemorating the emancipation of enslaved people in the US is a time of remembrance, of resilience, and of hope.

As Harvard/Radcliffe alums, let us be mindful of how far we have come and how far we still have to go. We encourage you to use your time on Sunday afternoon to reflect and understand the rich history of African Americans in the Cambridge/Boston area.

Ideas and activities posted on the reunion website: <https://1970.classes.harvard.edu/>
